

The AT&T Associate Solution Provider. Uniting the strengths of companies to bring the best communication solutions to your business.

Transformation is the foundation for moving to a longer term vision. AT&T has evolved our IP Networking Solutions to deliver an integrated foundation to simplify your voice, data and mobile communications with the goal of reducing complexity and preparing your business for the future. Future-minded network planning means understanding where you are today, where you are headed in the future, and finding the AT&T solutions that will in turn deliver business benefits for your company to reduce complexity and potentially lower costs.

We know it is crucial that you spend your valuable resources wisely and realize a high return on your telecommunications/networking investment. AT&T is pleased to introduce Turner Communications as an AT&T Associate Solution Provider who can work with you to create a roadmap for how AT&T's IP and mobility solutions can help to empower your business - today and in the future, as your business dictates. To meet the communications needs of business customers like you, AT&T works with a variety of Solution Providers whose capabilities complement our own. These firms sell across our entire business portfolio including networking, mobility, and hosting and application services. They can bring value to you through access to world-class sales support and solution design organizations, and synergies with AT&T network management, customer care, and billing.

We are confident that Turner Communications can help to address your network and communication needs with the utmost quality. You can contact them directly at 270.444.6276 / melanie@turnercomm.com or feel free to contact AT&T Channel Manager, Tommy Forsyth at 865.582.5331 / tf2117@att.com. Thank you for considering AT&T for all of your business communication solutions.

Sincerely,
